Index to Volume 17

Authors

Bekker, Gary J. Review: Communicating with Strangers: An Approach to Intercultural Communication, by Gudykunst and Kim. 17(1):62.

Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Dippo, Donald. See Simon, Roger I.

Enright, D. Scott. See Tammivaara, Julie.

Erickson, Frederick. Voices, Genres, Writers, and Audiences for the Anthropology & Education Quarterly. 17(1):3.

Harrison, Barbara. Manokotak: A Study of School Adaptation. 17(2):100.

Huxley, Frederick C. Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. 17(2):67.

Hymes, Dell. Four Days Old. 17(1):5.

Irwin, Susan. Review: Handicapping the Handicapped: Decision Making in Students' Educational Careers, by Mehan, Hertweck, and Meihls. 17(3):189.

Lancy, David F. See Pomponio, Alice.

Lesko, Nancy. Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. 17(1):25.

Lesko, Nancy. Review: Schooling as a Ritual Performance, by McLaren. 17(4):253.

Mehan, Hugh. See Rueda, Robert.

Moore, David Thornton. Learning at Work: Case Studies in Non-School Education. 17(3):166.

Nespor, Jan. Theoretical Note: On Students' Experiences Across the Grade Levels. 17(4):203.

Palincsar, Annemarie Sullivan. See Irwin, Susan.

Pomponio, Alice. A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work, and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. 17(1):40.

Rueda, Robert. Metacognition and Passing: Strategic Interactions in the Lives of Students with Learning Disabilities. 17(3):145.

Shultz, Jeff. The Individual and the Group: An Examination of American Folk Ideology. 17(4):239.

Simon, Roger I. On Critical Ethnographic Work. 17(4):195.

Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.

Swisher, Karen. Authentic Research: An Interview on the Way to the Ponderosa. 17(3):185.

Tammivaara, Julie. On Eliciting Information: Dialogues with Child Informants. 17(4):218.

Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Webster, David S. Journey to Fortran: A Yankee Way of Knowledge. 17(4):217.

Titles

Authentic Research: An Interview on the Way to the Ponderosa. Karen Swisher. 17(3):185.

Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. Donna Deyhle. 17(2):111.

Communicating with Strangers: An Approach to Intercultural Communication, by Gudykunst and Kim. Gary J. Bekker. 17(1):67.

Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. Frederick C. Huxley. 17(2):67.

Handicapping the Handicapped: Decision Making in Students' Educational Careers, by Mehan, Hertweck, and Meihls. Susan Irwin and Annemarie Sullivan Palincsar. 17(3):189.

The Individual and the Group: An Examination of American Folk Ideology. Jeffrey Shultz. 17(4):239.

Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. Nancy Lesko. 17(1):25.

Journey to Fortran: A Yankee Way of Knowledge. David Webster. 17(4):217.

Learning at Work: Case Studies in Non-School Education. David Thornton Moore. 17(3):166.

Manokotak: A Study of School Adaptation. Barbara Harrison. 17(2):100.

Metacognition and Passing: Strategic Interactions in the Lives of Students with Learning Disabilities. Robert Rueda and Hugh Mehan. 17(3):145.

On Critical Ethnographic Work. Roger I Simon and Donald Dippo. 17(4):195.

On Eliciting Information: Dialogues with Child Informants. Julie Tammivaara and D. Scott Enright. 17(4):218.

A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. Alice Pomponio and David F. Lancy. 17(1):40.

Schooling as a Ritual Performance, by McLaren. Nancy Lesko. 17(4):253.

"Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. Carol Tennessen. 17(3):131.

Theoretical Note: On Students' Experiences Across the Grade Levels. Jan Nespor. 17(4):203.

Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. Robert David Stearns. 17(1):6.

Voices, Genres, Writers, and Audiences for the Anthropology & Education Quarterly. Frederick Erickson. 17(1):3.

Subjects

American Indians
Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Arabic
Huxley, Frederick C. Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. 17(2):67.

Authoritative Discourse
Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Bilingualism
Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Caribbean Schools
Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Classroom Processes
Nespor, Jan. Theoretical Note: On Students' Experiences Across the Grade Levels. 17(4):203.

Creole
Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Cross Cultural Communications
Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Critical Ethnography
Simon, Roger I. and Donald Dippo. On Critical Ethnographic Work. 17(4):195.

Cultural Conflict
Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Development
Pomponio, Alice, and David F. Lancy. A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work, and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. 17(1):40.

Education as Investment
Pomponio, Alice, and David F. Lancy. A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work, and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. 17(1):40.

Educational Change
Harrison, Barbara. Manotak: A Study of School Adaptation. 17(2):100.

Educational Contradictions
Lesko, Nancy. Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. 17(1):25.

Educational Research
Harrison, Barbara. Manokotak: A Study of School Adaptation. 17(2):100.

Shultz, Jeff. The Individual and the Group: An Examination of American Folk Ideology. 17(4):239.

English
Huxley, Frederick C. Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. 17(2):67.

Ethnography
Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.

Indian Education
Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.

Individualism and Communication
Lesko, Nancy. Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. 17(1):25.

Informants
Tammivaara, Julie, and D. Scott Enright. On Eliciting Information: Dialogues with Child Informants. 17(4):218.

Interning
Moore, David Thornton. Learning at Work: Case Studies in Non-School Education. 17(3):166.

Interviewing
Tammivaara, Julie, and D. Scott Enright. On Eliciting Information: Dialogues with Child Informants. 17(4):218.

Language Learning
Huxley, Frederick C. Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. 17(2):67.

Learning
Nespor, Jan. Theoretical Note: On Students' Experiences Across the Grade Levels. 17(4):203.

Melanesia
Pomponio, Alice, and David F. Lancy. A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. 17(1):40.

Methods
Simon, Roger I. and Donald Dippo. On Critical Ethnographic Work. 17(4):195.

Minority Groups
Harrison, Barbara. Manokotak: A Study of School Adaptation. 17(2):100.

Non-School Education
Moore, David Thornton. Learning at Work: Case Studies in Non-School Education. 17(3):166.

Papua New Guinea
Pomponio, Alice, and David F. Lancy. A Pen or a Bushknife? School, Work, and "Personal Investment" in Papua New Guinea. 17(1):40.

Parochial Education
Lesko, Nancy. Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. 17(1):25.

Peer Social Groups
Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Rural Education
Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.

School Children
Tammivaara, Julie, and D. Scott Enright. On Eliciting Information: Dialogues with Child Informants. 17(4):218.

School Rituals
Lesko, Nancy. Individualism and Community: Ritual Discourse in a Parochial High School. 17(1):25.

Secondary School
Nespor, Jan. Theoretical Note: On Students' Experiences Across the Grade Levels. 17(4):203.

Semantics
Huxley, Frederick C. Contrasting Semantic Structures in English and Arabic: Problem and Promise in Second-Language Learning. 17(2):67.

Social Interaction
Deyhle, Donna. Break Dancing and Breaking Out: Anglos, Utes, and Navajos in a Border Reservation High School. 17(2):110.

Social Science Ideology
Shultz, Jeff. The Individual and the Group: An Examination of American Folk Ideology. 17(4):239.

Social Use of Language
Tennessen, Carol. "Talk to me of Disaster": Authoritative Discourse in the Schools. 17(3):131.

Teacher Education
Shultz, Jeff. The Individual and the Group: An Examination of American Folk Ideology. 17(4):239.

Teacher-Student
Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.

Videotape
Stearns, Robert David. Using Ethnography to Link School and Community in Rural Yucatan. 17(1):6.